AEBR Newsflash – January 2010

A NEW STRATEGY FOR THE EU: EU-2020

AEBR's contribution to the EU Consultation (http://ec.europa.eu/eu2020/index_en.htm)

AEBR always tries to contribute to the development of major European dossiers affecting border areas. So we did with the Lisbon Strategy, through direct communication and using the Structured Dialogue with the EU Commission promoted by the Committee of the Regions. So we are doing with the ongoing debates on Cohesion Policy and Territorial Cohesion. Actually, we have always considered Territorial Cooperation in general and Cross-Border Cooperation in particular as a key-stone for European Cohesion. Already in several of our contributions we have underlined some gaps in the so-called Lisbon Strategy, to be implemented by 2010. Now, a Post-Lisbon Strategy, the "EU 2020 Strategy", is under preparation. AEBR has elaborated a Position Paper on the EU 2020 Strategy, and has submitted to the European Commission a Summary with key issues from the viewpoint of the border regions. This paper has also been sent to Commissioner Paweł Samecki, to Commissioner-designated Johannes Hahn, the European Parliament's Committee on Regional Development, the Committee of the Regions, the European Economic and Social Committee, the Ministries in charge of Territorial Development in the EU Member States, and many European regional governments. The position paper as well as our letter to Commission President Barroso can be found on our website:

http://www.aebr.net/news/news_aebr.php?lc=en&nid=250#250

Some AEBR members have also contributed to the consultation (e.g. Regional Council of Ostrobothnia), see section "News from European Border and Cross-Border Regions".

CROSS-BORDER TRANSPORT LINKS

The President of the Regional Government of Aragón, Mr. Marcelino Iglesias Ricou will open this Forum in the city of Huesca, at the Southern side of the Pyrenees. The AEBR will be represented in this meeting by First Vice-President Jean-Paul Heider (Région Alsace) and Secretary General Martín Guillermo Ramírez. Other high-ranking guest speakers will be the Regional Minister of Transport and Infrastructure of the Government of Extremadura, Mr. José Luis Quintana, as well as representatives from the European Commission and the European Parliament. CROSS-BORDER HEALTHCARE

Conference "European Cooperation in the Health Sector III", 10 December 2009

Around 150 participants attended this conference in Lörrach (Baden-Württemberg), organized by the Swiss Cantons of Basel-City and Basel-Landscape, the Regional Government of Baden-Württemberg, Regio Basiliensis and AEBR. This was the third of a series of Conferences launched by AEBR's Task Force on Cross-Border Health, under the coordination of Regio Basiliensis, in order to follow European developments on that topic, present the best practise available from European regions, and promote wider inter-institutional cooperation in this regard. Information on this event can be found on:

http://www.aebr.net/news/news_aebr.php?lc=en&nid=251#251

Joint declaration of AEBR and EPECS on European Cross-Border Healthcare and Patients' Rights

On 10th December 2009, AEBR and EPECS (European Patients Empowerment for Customised Solutions) met in Lörrach on occasion of the Conference "European Cooperation in the Health Sector III". The European Council's failure to agree on the Draft Directive on Patients' Rights and Cross-Border Healthcare influenced very much the Lörrach Conference. EPECS and AEBR referred especially to the need of constructing an open, transparent, safe, and high quality Health Care System in the EU. On the other hand, there is a gap which is not certainly covered: more than one third of European population lives in border areas. And in many cases, they do not have the same healthcare possibilities than other citizens living more "central", unless effective cooperation takes place across national borders. Cross-Border Health Care can solve this problem in many European borders, combining services and staff to take care of cross-border populations without overlapping, in a very effective manner. Therefore, AEBR and EPECS have concluded a common statement, which is available for download on http://www.aebr.net/news/news_aebr.php?lc=en&nid=252#252

2nd EUREGIO II "Solutions for improving health care cooperation in border regions" meeting, Lodz/Poland, 25th November 2009

In the 2nd meeting of the EUREGIO II Project, its status and the work packages were discussed and decisions on next steps were taken. The new project coordinator, Mr. Chibuzo Opara, successor to Mr. Kai Michelsen, was introduced as well. Information was also given on the current activities with regard to the elaboration of the work package 4: Handbook "Making effective use of INTERREG-funding in cross-border health care". In this regard, a literature review concerning health related cross-border activities has been started, and a questionnaire has been distributed to all the border and cross-border regions in the EU (for more information on the invitation to contribute to the survey, please see http://www.aebr.net/news/news_aebr.php?lc=en&nid=233#233). This questionnaire, including questions on the experiences, possibilities and problems in cross-border activities and in the utilisation of the EU structural funds, still can be filled in and returned as soon as possible. PLEASE TAKE PART IN THE SURVEY. Some in-depth interviews with key stakeholders/regions are currently being carried out. Based on this information, case studies will be elaborated, which will be used for articles to be published as a special edition for the European Journal of Public Health.

The Handbook: These case studies and articles will also be taken into account in the handbook "Making effective use of INTERREG-funding in cross-border health care", which is planned to be published in the year 2011 to support the development of cross-border health care projects in border regions. In the introduction of this handbook, a short description as well as some explanations on the EUREGIO I and II projects will be given. Furthermore, it will contain a section on INTERREG with explanations on relevant regulations. Another chapter will deal with cross-border health care in Europe, containing a detailed description of 2 or 3 regions. It will also include a wide range of issues from the history of cross-border health projects to models of good practice, and the reasons for the failure of certain projects. This section will focus on highlighting different development stages of cross-border health care, problems and challenges as well as the peculiarities in various regions. Different indicators and criteria needed for effective cross-border health care projects will be described as well.

Web 2.0 Tools: The analysis and the summary of the results of the survey and the in-depth questionnaires will identify criteria for models of good practice and demonstrate barriers to effective cross-border cooperation and funding programmes within Europe. In the coming weeks a number of web 2.0 tools (blogs and wikipages) will be introduced on the project's web page to make it more interactive. Moderated discussions on topics related to the project will be hosted with these tools. Furthermore the EUREGIO II project will develop a support system for local decision makers in the way of a guideline for local HTA (Health Technology Assessment). This will be done by interviewing them about their information needs and the decision-making process in the cross border regions. More information on the EUREGIO II project can be found on <http://inthealth.eu/research/euregio-ii/>

HEARING OF REGIONAL POLICY COMMISSIONER-DESIGNATE JOHANNES HAHN:

In the hearing at the European Parliament on Thursday, 14 January 2010, Mr. Hahn said that "Regional Policy is a success story of European integration", and that there would be no alternative to continuing it. Being asked if cross-border policy was one of his priorities, the Commissioner-designate stated he would support any kind of policy that transcends any kinds of borders, that that kind of policy would create a real added value, and he therefore would strongly support better co-operation between regions. Strategic Reporting: promoting an EU debate on cohesion

National strategic reports were required from the 27 Member States to answer questions such as: What progress are Member States and their regions making in delivering agreed objectives in the period 2007 – 2009, including high level EU objectives? How has cohesion policy contributed to reducing the economic and social disparities across Europe? What has been the impact of the on-going economic crisis on implementing cohesion policy programmes? Once all reports have been analysed, a synthesis report will be elaborated, which will also identify examples of good practices in the Member States. Links to the national reports that have been published by the Member States can be found on: http://ec.europa.eu/regional_policy/policy/reporting/index_en.htm

The "Association of European Border Regions" (AEBR) is the oldest independent association of regions in Europe, founded in 1971, and the only one dealing with Cross-Border Cooperation (CBC). AEBR has almost forty years of extensive theoretical and practical experience in all aspects related to CBC, but also in the field of inter-regional and transnational co-operation. With one hundred members (border and cross-border European regions), the AEBR is a forum for cross-border cooperation and makes the voice of the border and cross-border regions heard at European level.

L'Association des régions frontalières européennes (ARFE), fondée en 1971, est la plus ancienne association indépendante de régions en Europe. Elle est aussi la seule à traiter la coopération transfrontalière. L'ARFE a presque quarante ans d'expérience théorique et pratique extensive dans tous les domaines de la coopération transfrontalière, mais également en coopération interrégionale et transnationale. Avec ses cent membres (zones frontalières et transfrontalières européennes) l'ARFE est un forum de la coopération transfrontalière et représente la voix des régions frontalières et transfrontalières à l'échelle européenne.

Die "Arbeitsgemeinschaft Europäischer Grenzregionen" (AGEG) ist die älteste unabhängige Regionalorganisation in Europa. Sie wurde im Jahr 1971 gegründet und ist die einzige Regionalorganisation, die sich mit grenzüberschreitender Zusammenarbeit beschäftigt. Die AGEG verfügt über eine fast 40jährige Erfahrung in allen Bereichen der grenzüberschreitenden Zusammenarbeit, aber auch auf dem Gebiet der interregionalen sowie der transnationalen Kooperation. Mit ihren einhundert Mitgliedern (Grenz- und grenzübergreifende Regionen Europas) bildet die AGEg ein Forum für grenzüberschreitende Kooperation und vertritt die Interessen der Grenz- und grenzübergreifenden Regionen auf europäischer Ebene.
